

*"We're part of the matrix that creates and maintains the living world.
Wherever we are, air and water move through us like a river of life.
What we do to it, we do to ourselves."*

- David Suzuki

Join MamaCita members for an exhibition of new work-

(W)holon

something that is simultaneously a whole and a part.

Opening Reception

December 11, 2011- 3:00pm - 5:00pm

Abington Art Center

515 Meetinghouse Rd

Jenkintown, PA

As our members strive to develop as independent artists, they benefit from the strength and collaborative spirit of the group and fulfill their mission to offer constructive critique and encouragement, and ultimately, to inspire and motivate. Representing both the cooperative's mission and the (W)holons concept, the exhibition is comprised of three, 4" x 4" pieces by each artist. These small works are hung together as parts of a larger installation. In addition, each artist is represented as an individual by a 20" x 20" piece.

MAMA Cita
a Mothers' Cooperative in the Arts